ABOUT ME

I'm a fullstack developer and a programmer with a strong foundation in both front-end and back-end technologies. I am a detail-oriented problem solver experienced in creating fullstack applications and software and enjoy working on projects from conception to deployment. I am constantly learning and staying up-to-date with the latest development trends and best practices.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Fullstack and app developer

Weizmann Institute of Science/Pheno.ai - 2022-2023
As a fullstack and app developer at 10K medtech startup project, I played a key role in the development and maintenance of a large global project; Working closely with a multidisciplinary team, practicing my skills in a variety of technologies, including JavaScript, React and Python. I also gained valuable experience working with cloud-based infrastructure and services with AWS, to build and deploy our applications. My contributions to the company's success were acknowledged and appreciated by the senior management and I had great exposure to work in startup culture.

Fullstack and Wordpress developer

GlobalSolution LTD - 2017-2020
I developed and delivered sophisticated user interfaces and backend systems. I worked in a large team that delivered websites and android apps to customers regularly.

Freelancing - 2015-Now

Freelancing in fullstack development, Wordpress, web design, and app development. I worked on tens of projects over the years with Node.js, TypeScript, React, React Native, PHP, Python, Wordpress, Java, MySql, HTML, CSS, jQuery.
